HOW TO USE THIS GUIDE

One search, three kinds of renter

Renting well in Kosovo and Albania comes down to four things: dealing with a reliable landlord, viewing a listing that is genuinely real and available, paying a rent that matches the market, and following a clear, documented process. Get those right and you rent the right home, safely, at a fair price. This guide — and Moovna — are built around exactly that.

01 · THE PLATFORM

A new standard in real estate

Moovna is the only platform fully specialised in real estate in Kosovo and Albania — and for a renter, that focus removes the four things that make renting stressful: dodgy landlords, fake listings, unfair prices, and a chaotic process.

On a cluttered portal you scroll past duplicates, phantom adverts and prices that mean nothing, never sure who is really behind a listing. Moovna is built the opposite way: every listing is structured, verified and current, every landlord is accountable, and a dedicated data layer — the same engine behind this guide — tells you whether a rent is fair. You search with confidence instead of suspicion.

For a renter, Moovna means four concrete things:

RELIABLE LANDLORDS

Verified, vetted landlords and agents — someone accountable behind every listing, so you rent with confidence and far less risk of a scam.

REAL, UP-TO-DATE LISTINGS

Structured, de-duplicated and current — what you see is genuinely available, with real photos and accurate details, not bait or stale adverts.

FAIR, MARKET-BASED RENTS

Every rent set against real market data, so you can tell at a glance whether a price is fair — and never overpay.

A CLEAR, STANDARD PROCESS

One normalised path from search to signed lease — viewing, vetting, contract and deposit handled properly, so nothing is improvised.

HOW MOOVNA HELPS

Reliable landlords, real and current listings, rents you can check against the market, and a clear standard process — that is what Moovna is built to give a renter, from first search to the day you move in.

02 · THE LAY OF THE LAND

The rental market today

Knowing the market protects you: it tells you what is fair, where to look, and how fast to act. Formal rental supply is thin in the capitals, so good homes move quickly — being informed and ready is your advantage.

€300–600
Typical monthly rent, Pristina to Tirana — your fair-price reference range

5.3%
Of Kosovo households rent — formal supply is thin, so good homes go fast

Kosovo uses the euro — clear, stable rent terms, no currency surprises

12M+
Visitors to Albania in 2025 — book coastal and seasonal stays early

MARKET	LONG-TERM RENT / MONTH	TYPICAL PROFILE
Pristina	≈ €300	Capital · thin supply · lets fast
Prizren	Below capital levels	Lower cost of living
Tirana	≈ €600	Deepest choice in Albania
Coast (Vlora/Saranda/Durrës)	Short-term €60–600 / night	Seasonal · book early

Indicative medians, EUR. Rents vary by neighbourhood, floor and furnishing. Use as a reference, not a fixed figure. As of 24.06.2026.

Who you are renting alongside

Kosovo has the youngest population in Europe and is urbanising fast, while Albania is concentrating into Tirana and the coast. Because only about 5.3% of Kosovo households rent, good homes in the capitals are scarce and let quickly — knowing this is half the battle.

Median age in Kosovo — the youngest in Europe; a young, mobile renter market

38%→50%
Kosovo urbanisation since 2011 — demand concentrating in Pristina

~600K
Residents in Tirana; the region holds ~⅓ of Albania — the deepest choice

4.33
Avg household size in Kosovo, down from 5.90 in 2011 — more homes sought

What this means for you: in the capitals, demand is young and supply is thin, so the best homes move fast. Know your fair price, have your documents and deposit ready, and act decisively when the right place appears. (Kosovo Agency of Statistics, Census 2024 · INSTAT, Census 2023.)

Where renters look

PRISTINA · KOSOVO · CAPITAL

Where almost all of Kosovo's formal rentals are. Young and fast-moving; the central Qendra district commands a premium while the outer ring offers better value. The widest long-term choice in the country.

PRIZREN · KOSOVO · VALUE

Lower cost of living and a relaxed, characterful pace — strong value for students and remote workers who want more space for the money.

TIRANA · ALBANIA · CAPITAL

The deepest rental choice in Albania. Central Blloku and the ring-road areas cost more; outer neighbourhoods and the suburbs stretch a budget further.

DURRËS · ALBANIA · COAST

Beach access plus a short commute to Tirana — a year-round option with summer energy, and a way to live near the coast without paying Tirana rents.

VLORA & SARANDA · ALBANIA · SEASONAL

Mainly short-term and seasonal. Spectacular in summer, quieter off-season — book early, and confirm exactly what is included (see §13). The takeaway: in Pristina and Tirana the best homes let quickly, so know your budget and your fair price before you start — and be ready to move when you find the right one.

03 · BEFORE YOU SEARCH

Decide what you need

A clear brief saves time and money, and stops you settling for the wrong place under pressure. Fix these before you start scrolling.

- Set a real budget. A common guide is to keep rent around a third of income — and remember to add utilities, charges and the deposit (see §11).
- Choose your area. Weigh commute, transport, safety and daily life; in Pristina and Tirana, central districts cost more but cut travel time.
- Furnished or unfurnished? Furnished lets faster and suits newcomers and shorter stays; unfurnished can be cheaper for a long settled tenancy.
- Long-term or short-term? A standard lease for a home; a short-term let for a seasonal or temporary stay (see §13) — they price and work very differently.
- List your must-haves — rooms, floor and lift, parking, heating, natural light, pets — so you can compare like for like.

HOW MOOVNA HELPS

Structured listings let you filter by area, price, furnishing and features and compare real options side by side — so you match your brief to genuine homes instead of sifting through noise.

04 · DON'T OVERPAY

Know a fair rent

The single best protection against overpaying is knowing what a place should cost. A rent is fair when it matches comparable homes in the same neighbourhood — not when a landlord says so.

Rents vary sharply by area, floor and furnishing, so the right comparison is a similar home on a similar street, not the city average. In Pristina, central districts trade well above the median while the periphery sits below it — the same applies in Tirana. Use real market levels as your anchor, then adjust for condition, furnishing and what is included.

Two adjustments matter most. Location: in Pristina the central Qendra district runs well above the city median (roughly 1.7× on price) while peripheral areas sit far lower (around 0.65×), and rents follow a similar pattern — so a flat that looks dear may simply be central, and one that looks cheap may be far out. Furnishing: a furnished unit typically commands a premium of roughly 10–20% over the same flat unfurnished. Compare like for like, and a confusing market quickly becomes readable.

A QUICK EXAMPLE

Two 60 m² flats are advertised at €280 and €360. The cheaper one is on the periphery and unfurnished; the dearer one is central and furnished, with heating included. Once you adjust for location, furnishing and what is bundled in, the "expensive" one may be the better value — which is exactly what benchmarking reveals.

- Benchmark before you enquire — know the median rent for the area and size you want.
- Check what is included — utilities, building charges, parking and furniture change the real cost of a rent.
- Treat a too-cheap listing with suspicion — a price well below the market is often bait or a scam (see §7).
- Use the gap to negotiate — if a rent sits above comparable homes, the data is your case for a fair price.

HOW MOOVNA HELPS

Moovna's market data shows you median rents by city and neighbourhood, so you can see instantly whether a listing is fairly priced — and rent with the confidence that you are paying a coherent, market-based rent, not an inflated one.

05 · WHAT YOU SEE IS REAL

Spot real, up-to-date listings

A huge amount of renter stress comes from fake, duplicated or stale adverts — the apartment that is already gone, the photos that belong to a different flat, the price that changes when you call. Learning to spot a genuine listing saves hours and protects you from scams.

- Real photos, of one real place. Multiple, consistent images of the actual unit — not a single stock-looking shot or mismatched rooms.
- Complete, specific details. True surface, floor, furnishing, address area, what is included and an available date — vagueness is a warning.
- A price that holds. If the rent rises or terms change the moment you enquire, walk away.
- It is actually available. Stale adverts for already-let homes waste your time; current, managed listings do not.

HOW MOOVNA HELPS

Moovna listings are structured, de-duplicated and kept current — real photos, accurate details, and homes that are genuinely available. You spend your time on places you can actually rent, not chasing adverts that were never real.

---

06 · SEE IT FOR YOURSELF

View the property

Never commit to a home you have not seen — in person, or through a trustworthy live video tour if you are remote. A viewing confirms the listing is real and reveals what photos hide.

- Water pressure, hot water and heating all work
- Damp, mould, cracks or disrepair anywhere
- Windows, locks and the front door are secure
- Lift, stairwell and building common areas
- Natural light and noise at the actual time of day
- Mobile signal and internet availability
- Appliances and furniture included actually work
- The unit matches the listing — size, floor, layout

HOW MOOVNA HELPS

Because Moovna listings are real and current, a viewing confirms what you already saw online — and direct contact with the landlord or a vetted agent makes arranging it, including a live video tour from abroad, straightforward.

07 · RENT FROM SOMEONE YOU CAN TRUST

Vet the landlord & avoid scams

The most important protection in renting is knowing who you are dealing with. Most rental fraud follows the same script — and it is easy to avoid once you know it.

- Confirm who owns or manages the property before you pay anything. A reliable landlord or licensed agent will expect this.
- Never pay before viewing and signing. Requests for a deposit or "reservation" to see a place, or before any contract, are the classic scam — walk away.
- Use traceable payments. Avoid cash-only or money-transfer-to-a-stranger demands; pay in a documented way once a contract exists.
- Watch the red flags. A price far below market, a landlord "abroad" who cannot show the flat, pressure to act instantly, or refusal to use a written lease.

Common scam patterns to recognise

- The cloned listing. Real photos stolen from a genuine advert, re-posted at a tempting low price by someone who does not own the property.
- The "landlord abroad". They cannot show the flat in person and ask you to transfer a deposit to "hold" it or to receive the keys — never do this.
- Pay-to-view. A fee or deposit requested simply to see the property, before any contract exists.
- The double-let. The same place promised to several people; whoever pays first "wins", and the rest lose their money.
- Manufactured urgency. "Several others are interested — pay now to secure it." Pressure is a tactic, not a reason to skip your checks.

THE RULE THAT MATTERS MOST

No money before a viewing and a signed contract — ever. A genuine landlord never needs payment to let you see a home, and a verified platform means you are dealing with real, accountable people.

HOW MOOVNA HELPS

Moovna connects you to verified, vetted landlords and licensed agents — accountable people behind real listings — so you rent with confidence instead of gambling on a stranger you found in a feed.

08 · ONE CLEAR PATH

The renting process step by step

A good rental follows a clear, standard sequence — no improvisation, no surprises. Knowing the steps keeps you in control.

01 Define your brief & budget. Area, price, furnishing and must-haves (§3). Moovna: filter real listings to your brief.

02 Shortlist real listings. Compare genuine, current homes and check each rent against the market. Moovna: verified listings + fair-rent data.

03 View. See the property in person or by live video, and confirm it matches the listing.

04 Vet the landlord. Confirm ownership or management before any payment. Moovna: verified landlords & agents.

05 Agree the terms. Rent, deposit, what is included, start date and length — in writing.

06 Sign the lease & record the inventory. A written contract, a deposit (commonly 1–2 months) and a condition record with photos.

07 Pay properly & get receipts. Pay the deposit and first rent traceably, and keep proof.

08 Move in. Take meter readings, get keys and contacts, and keep a copy of everything signed.

09 · GET IT IN WRITING

The lease & your deposit

A written lease protects you as much as the landlord. Never rent on a verbal agreement — the contract is your proof of terms, rights and what you are owed back.

- Names, the property and the lease term
- Rent, currency (euro), due date and how to pay
- Deposit amount (commonly 1–2 months) and return terms
- What is included — utilities, charges, furnishings
- Inventory and condition record, with photos
- Who handles repairs and maintenance
- Notice periods and renewal terms
- House rules, guests and subletting

In Kosovo, the Law on Obligations governs tenancies and protects you against eviction without just cause, and anti-discrimination law applies. A registered or declared lease is stronger protection — and it is the landlord's obligation to declare rental income, not yours. Photograph the property at move-in to safeguard your deposit.

Questions to ask before you sign

- Who owns the property, and is the lease registered or declared?
- Exactly what is included in the rent — which utilities and charges?
- How much is the deposit, and what are the conditions to get it back?
- Who pays for repairs, and how do I report a problem?
- What is the notice period, and how does renewal work?
- Are utilities in my name or the landlord's, and are any bills outstanding?

HOW MOOVNA HELPS

A standard, documented process means a proper written lease, a recorded inventory and a clearly handled deposit from day one — so your tenancy is protected, not improvised.

10 · RENTING FROM AFAR

Renting remotely

Securing a home before you arrive — as a diaspora member, a relocating professional or a student — is entirely doable, but sight-unseen renting is exactly where scams thrive. Verification is everything.

- Insist on a live video tour of the actual property, in real time, before you commit — not just sent photos.
- Deal only with verified landlords or licensed agents, and confirm who owns or manages the property.

- Never transfer money before a signed contract, however convincing the story — this is the single most common remote-rental scam.
- Keep everything documented — the lease, the inventory, payment receipts and all communication.

HOW MOOVNA HELPS

For a remote renter, Moovna is the safe way in: real, current listings, verified landlords and vetted agents who can run a live viewing, and a standard, documented process — so you can secure a home from abroad without gambling on a stranger.

11 · BUDGET THE FULL COST

The costs of renting

The rent is only part of what you pay to move in and live there. Budget the whole picture so nothing catches you out.

- Deposit — commonly one to two months' rent, held against damage or unpaid rent and returnable at the end if the property is left in good order.
- First month's rent — usually paid upfront alongside the deposit.
- Agency fee, if any — where an agent is involved, confirm who pays and how much before you commit.
- Utilities & charges — electricity, water, heating, internet and any building/common-area charges; check which are included in the rent.
- Move-in costs — any furnishings, cleaning or minor setup for an unfurnished or longer let.

PLAN AHEAD

Have the deposit and first month ready before you start serious viewings — in a thin, fast-moving market, being ready to commit (to a verified listing) is what secures the best homes.

---

12 · KNOW WHERE YOU STAND

Your rights & responsibilities

A tenancy is a two-way agreement. Knowing both sides keeps the relationship smooth and protects you if something goes wrong.

YOUR RESPONSIBILITIES

- Pay rent in full and on time.
- Look after the property and report issues promptly.
- Respect the lease terms, house rules and notice periods.
- Return the property in good order to recover your deposit.

YOUR RIGHTS

- A habitable, maintained property and working essentials.
- Protection from eviction without just cause (Kosovo).
- Quiet enjoyment and reasonable privacy.
- Return of your deposit, less any justified deductions.

NOTE

Tenant-protection rules vary and evolve. Keep your lease, inventory and receipts, and seek advice from a licensed local professional for any serious dispute.

13 · SHORT STAYS

Short-term & seasonal renting

Renting a coastal apartment for the season or a city flat for a short work stay follows different rules from a long lease — and demand on the Albanian coast peaks fast.

- Book early for the coast. Vlora, Saranda and Durrës fill quickly for the April–October season; the best places and rates go first.
- Confirm exactly what is included — cleaning, utilities, linens and any tourist charges — and the full nightly or weekly price.
- Use real, reviewed listings and verified hosts; short-term is where fake adverts and double-bookings are most common.
- Get the terms in writing — dates, price, deposit and cancellation — even for a short stay.

HOW MOOVNA HELPS

Real, current listings and verified hosts make short-term and seasonal renting safe and predictable — what you book is what you get, at a price that reflects the market.

---

14 · THE HONEST PART

Avoid the common tenant mistakes

A reference guide should be candid. Almost every bad rental experience comes from one of these — and each is avoidable.

- Paying before viewing or signing. The number-one cause of rental fraud. No money before a viewing and a contract.
- Renting on a verbal agreement. Without a written lease you have no proof of terms or deposit. Always get it in writing.
- Skipping the inventory. No move-in condition record means deposit disputes you cannot win. Photograph everything.
- Overpaying blind. Not checking the market means accepting an inflated rent. Benchmark first.
- Ignoring what is included. A "cheap" rent with everything extra can cost more than a higher all-in one. Compare totals.
- Trusting a too-good listing. A price well below market is bait. If it looks too good, it is.

16 · TRUST THE NUMBERS

Methodology & sources

The market guidance in this document rests on transparent, verifiable data.

- Rent levels are medians from listings Moovna collects, cleans, de-duplicates and normalises to euro, with statistical outliers removed — the basis for judging whether a rent is fair.
- Market and demographic context draws on official censuses — the Kosovo Agency of Statistics (Census 2024) and INSTAT in Albania (Census 2023) — and national tourism statistics.
- Tenant-protection points reflect the general legal framework (e.g. Kosovo's Law on Obligations) at publication — always confirm specifics with a licensed local professional.
